Do explain.

We provided information about a scientific revolution with actual papers - as in the Swedish research, and a video with 40 actual papers in it and real science.

Can you please point that content out - and then let me correct it.

There are a hundred published papers in this space - a list is here

How steps were taken to assess "unscientific" and then censure my posts?

Crackpot physics is unscientific, and not appropriate here.

Seems like a strong opinion given that I just sent a list of 100 published articles - and you will note I referenced the US Department of Defense has validated this energy space https://youtu.be/O1-qq_pJcrI?t=87 .

I saw from your content policy that you can have your own rules. However, Reddit should be free of bias especially around the most important ideas of our time. Otherwise it can prevent progress. Facebook seems to be under the hot seat by Congress.

I suggest I send you information some of the publications (Journal of Hydrogen Energy etc) - you don't have to learn it but just to assess - is this based on peer-reviewed research?

Sound good?

No thank you, I'm quite familiar with BLP's schizophrenic delusions. You'll have to find other venues to advertise their nonsense.

Best.
